

spring
265

Once some measure of order had been restored to the rest of his empire, Gallienus made his preparations and marched against Pertinax in the spring of 265. Pertinax avoided a pitched battle and Gallienus had to break off the campaign when he was wounded in the back by an arrow while besieging Pertinax in a city where he had taken refuge. Pertinax was left in undisturbed possession of his Baltic empire throughout the remaining years of Gallienus's rule.

265

Gallienus fails to recover
Gallie empire

C265

205-270

1912 Dates J-BK

PLOTINUS (205-270) is regarded by many as the greatest of the neo-Platonists, though he is equally a neo-Aristotelian and a neo-philosopher, as he took into account the teachings of all of his great predecessors.

0265

---

Licinius was born in the province of DACIA Nova.

265

Gallienus determined to even back the western provinces. With AUREOLUS commanding the Cavalry Gallienus marched against Postumus, there was some success but he broke off when wounded in the back.

Postumus continued in power for 4 more years, outlasting Gallienus.

C 265 - 340 AD

EUSEBIUS

Bishop of Caesarea
Wrote "History of Church"
The first scholarly work on the subject

This was not Eusebius of Nicomedia who died c 342. This one supported Arius at Council of Nicaea, baptized Constantine 337 & became Palatinal Constantine 339

265

1912 Dates J-EN

WUTU consolidated the Chinese Empire and founded the dynasty of T'SIN.

265

China: End of the Three Kingdoms union under the Western T'ang (Chin) dynasty.